

GLOBAL AWARENESS SOCIETY INTERNATIONAL

The Global Awareness Society International, Inc. (GASI) is a non-profit organization composed of people and organizations of various backgrounds that recognize that the world is no longer made up of independent nations and cultures. This technologically induced change affects everyone. We, as an organization, wish to explore the exciting potential that globalization of the world's cultures and societies presents to each and every one of us as citizens of this planet. Established in 1991, our membership includes both academic and non-academic based professionals and individuals from various organizations and nations including the United States of America.

Globalization has made possible what was once merely a vision: the peoples of our world united under the roof of one global village. Yet, despite increasing interdependence, human conflicts continue to blemish the landscape of our planet. We believe that a vital step toward achieving peace, harmony, and cooperation among the diverse peoples of our globe is to promote mutual understanding and appreciation for one another. GASI strives to turn a global vision into global reality.

Purpose and goals of GASI:

- To promote awareness of the diversity of cultures within our global community;
- To enhance our understanding of the political, economic, social, demographic, technological, and environmental issues among members of the global community;
- To increase sensitivity to issues related to rapid globalization;
- To develop a mutual support network of scholars, professionals, interested people and organizations;
- To provide multiple forums for the exchange of research, knowledge, and expertise on people oriented issues related to globalization;
- To help people recognize the diversity and interdependence of the globe's peoples and the process of globalization;
- To develop and expand the number of national or regional Global Awareness Societies under the direction of GASI to pursue our common goals.

Proceedings:

The Proceedings of the 28th annual GASI conference will be assembled and published online under the editorship of Dr. James Pomfret, Bloomsburg University of PA. Guidelines for submitting papers are found at the end of this program booklet.

Message from the President Global Awareness Society International

Dear GASI Conference Attendees:

On behalf of the executive officers and the conference planning committee, I extend my warmest welcome and appreciation for your participation at the 28th Annual Conference of the Global Awareness Society International (GASI).

This year's conference in Marrakech, Morocco is GASI's first conference held in a predominantly Muslim country. We have been welcomed during the Ramadan season and appreciate the importance of this occasion. Our conference and post-conference cultural tour will conclude just in time for the celebration of Eid al-Fitr. What an incredible opportunity to learn and appreciate the customs and traditions of this culture! I am grateful to be part of GASI as we continue to "promote awareness of the diversity of culture within our global community."

The GASI 2019 conference theme Changes, Challenges, and Opportunities in a Global World offers a framework for interdisciplinary discussion about the issues facing us in an increasingly globalized society. We have keynote speakers, panel discussions, service projects, workshops, and paper presentations. Over 100 presenters from around the world will share information in the next three days. Conference participants represent professors, students, clergy, and service providers from over 40 universities, international NGOs, and the private sector. Together, we will learn from research, listen to ideas, and develop relationships that enable us to contribute to the ongoing mission of GASI to achieve "peace, harmony, and cooperation among the diverse people of our globe."

At GASI, we are continuing to look for ways to increase our reach to be more inclusive of the broad global community. I invite you to spread the word about this unique GASI organization and your commitment to promoting appreciation of our global community by sharing your conference experiences on Twitter, Facebook, and Instagram using the hashtag #GASI2019

I look forward to engaging with each of you during the many opportunities of this conference.

My best,

Sarah Moore Oliphant
President & Conference Program Chair, 2018-2020
University of North Texas

28TH ANNUAL GASI CONFERENCE KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Friday Keynote Speaker: Behzad Noubary

Mr. Behzad Noubary has been serving as Deputy Representative of the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) in Morocco since August 2016. Mr. Noubary joined UNICEF in 2008, with assignments in New York, Gabon, Democratic Republic of Congo, and Yemen. Prior to joining UNICEF, Mr. Noubary worked as management consultant at PricewaterhouseCoopers in the US and served in the Peace Corps in Burkina Faso. An American citizen of Iranian descent born in the UK, Mr. Noubary holds degrees from Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania and Columbia University. In 1995, he received one of GASI's first Student Scholarships in support of his conference presentation in Shanghai, China. He currently resides in Morocco with his wife and daughter.

Saturday Keynote Speaker: Mia Jeong

Ms. Jeong is a child protection and humanitarian professional, with over 10 years of experience working in a broad range of capacities, including coordination, technical assistance, research, assessment, monitoring and evaluation, and project management. Since 2003, Ms. Jeong has worked for UN agencies and NGOs in Yemen, South Sudan, Democratic Republic of Congo, Chad, Central African Republic, Nepal, Cambodia, Lebanon and Morocco, and much of her work has involved working with conflict-affected populations. She has an in-depth knowledge and experiences in child protection, sexual and gender-based violence, humanitarian coordination, cash-based intervention and rapid response for displaced populations. Ms. Jeong holds two Master's degrees, one in Peace Studies from Graduate Institute of Peace Studies, Korea, and the other in Humanitarian Assistance from Catholic University of Louvain, Belgium.

Service Project Information

GASI Conference participants are invited to participate in three service activities.

1. A local school that features English language proficiency has invited us to engage in conversation practice with their students. This project will be a cultural exchange as well as an opportunity for supporting English language learning. Please see the conference registration desk for the day, time, and transportation details of this service activity.
2. West Chester University students participating in the GASI conference are leading a book drive to provide English language books for the library of our Marrakech school partner. Our contributed books will be English language reference books, plus classics of British and American literature. You may leave a suitable book at the conference registration table, or may accompany us to the school to present the books and to participate in the English language learning activity (see above for details).
3. West Chester University students participating in the GASI conference are raising funds to support one of the United Nations International Children's Education Fund's (UNICEF) Moroccan civil society partners. If you would like to support this effort with a monetary contribution, please see the contribution information available at the registration desk. The funds will be presented to UNICEF Morocco director Mr. Behzad Noubary at the Global Awards Banquet on Saturday evening.

GASI-UNIVERSITY COURSEWORK PARTNERSHIP MODEL

For the first time, West Chester University of Pennsylvania (WCU) has initiated a program linking course credit to GASI conference participation. WCU has invited students who have had GASI proposals accepted to make their conference participation part of an academic course. Dr. Bill Lalicker, WCU Professor of English and GASI Executive Secretary, is teaching Multicultural Writing as a summer course with a study abroad component consisting of participation in the GASI conference and the post-conference cultural tour of Morocco. Students' conference proposals and presentations will count as course writing assignments. The course will continue, after the Morocco experience, on the WCU campus, where students will write reflections on their travels and intercultural engagement, and will read classic essays from several eras and cultures on the themes of language, rhetoric, community, and education, from global perspectives. Mr. Hiram G. Martinez, Assistant Director/Coordinator of Diversity Initiatives for West Chester University's Office for Diversity, Equity & Inclusion and GASI Past President, was instrumental in engaging students for the course and building the program.

Journal of Global Awareness

The Journal of Global Awareness is a non-partisan, public forum publication for the exchange and dissemination of knowledge, expertise and research focused on the globalization process affecting all people in the world. In keeping with the mission of the Global Awareness Society International, manuscripts exploring the world's cultures and societies are welcome. The journal's mission is also about peace, harmony, and cooperation among diverse peoples, promoting mutual understanding and global citizenship.

Authors may submit scholarly manuscript that are from a wide variety of disciplines and that stress the issues related to the effects of globalization. Unless authors are writing an historical analysis, data for manuscripts should be current that is, gathered within the past five years.
